

Greetings,

Don't let the name fool you—Garageland Rodeo is neither a garage band nor country band. They're a free-wheeling, 7 piece powerhouse that revels in playing rock and blues, with a lot of soul.

Formed in 2004, and currently celebrating their 16th year as a band, Garageland Rodeo is comprised of local east bay musicians that bring a broad diversity of influences to the stage. They take pride in their craft (whether unplugged or fully charged) and play for events of all kinds, from music fests to weddings to wine bars to dive bars. Armed with both original songs as well as an eclectic mix of covers, this band has come together to create their own distinct sound, original style, and warm, welcoming energy.
